

Fylde Golf Society

The Fylde Golf Society has around 50 members and organises seven monthly outings during the season from April to October with an average of 20 people attending each event. These are either 18 hole afternoon or 27 hole full day outings. In addition there is a summer matchplay comp, a 2-day golf break and assistance towards representing the Fylde in regional and national golfing comps.

The society program of chosen venues offers variety ranging from low cost, value for money courses to prestigious northwest clubs. Member's subscriptions are used to subsidise the society's activities and for nothing else. The Society is indebted to HASSRA Fylde and North Fylde CSSC for the financial assistance it receives and so to continue to benefit from this, Society members must be either full or associate members of both HASSRA and CSSC.

The society is friendly and our objectives are to enjoy golf. We have no formal dress code but do adhere to the rules of the club we were visiting. The program of courses varies every year and aims to offers may things such as good courses, easy travelling, cheap and/or good value and reflects what the members want. We do have a competition at each event including '2s' and nearest-the-pin but this does not have to be taken too seriously, the main aim is to enjoy the day.
